ABOUT THE SEMINAR

On 22nd April 1966, the distinguished founding members led by the Late Sir L. P. Misra took the lead to form the institute responding to the need of the country to develop welding technology for meeting the challenge of infrastructural and industrial growth of the nation in the post-independence area.

The humble beginning was taken forward by a host of dedicated and experienced professionals who also provided the right leadership to steer a sustaining growth of the institute keeping pace with the growth of the nation.

As we complete 50 years of journey, It is indeed an occasion for us to feel happy and proud for where we are today, and celebrate this historic year.

While we bask in the glory of the past, we also take this opportunity to look to the future and set a roadmap for significant and sustainable development of welding science and technology in our noble pursuit of "Welding for Nation Building"

Considering this vital aspect, Indian Institute of Welding is organising a seminar on theme of "Advances in Welding Technology & Automation".

This seminar will not only bring in focus on the quality work done by young professionals in the field of welding will also highlight young professionals existing in this field. Needless to say, such professionals are the pillar for the future development in the field of metal joining. In order to encourage young professionals, best paper during the seminar will be duly rewarded.

Young research scholars or scientists (Age not more than 40 years) from R&D organization like IPR, ITER, FCIPT, ISRO and M.Tech, Ph. D. students from academic institutions like IIT Gandhinagar, ITER, NIT, M.S.U & P.D.P.U, Welding Technologists, Professionals, Practicing Engineers and consultants from industries are invited to participate as delegates for the seminar and share their knowledge for the mutual benefit.

It is requested to send abstract of paper / full text paper so as to reach us latest by 5th September 2016 by e-mail to Mr. R. R. Chari at Rr.Chari@emerson.com &/or Mr. R. R. Vishwakarma at Vishwakarma_rr@rediffmail.com OR by post to IIW Baroda Branch address mentioned on the cover page.

It is expected that more than 100 delegates - Young professionals (Age not more than 40 years) from welding industries / R&D / Universities / Institutes all over INDIA will attend this seminar. Two invited and contributory technical papers on the theme will be presented by the experts from large industrial houses, research organizations, renowned inspection bodies and academic institutions. Those desirous of participating in "Young Professional Seminar" are requested to send filled up delegate registration form along with delegate fees to address mentioned in the form latest by 15th September, 2016.
